1 & 2 day workshops for personal and business presentation skills

feetontheground.co.uk

In demanding economic times and an increasingly competitive market place, every business opportunity has to be seized, sealed and delivered.

The key to this is through the people who work for you. Investing in the teams and individuals is not just a good idea but sound financial accumen.

Highly motivational, creative and effective 1 & 2 day workshops aimed at improving personal and business presentation skills.

How to structure a presentation, building confidence, posture, communication with purpose, content, timing, delivery, closing and technology.

Established in 2003 our training experience and our combination of Audio Visual and Event focus through our partner companies distinguishes us from most - not only do we train how to present with power to maximise effectiveness but we also use these skills to pitch for sales, run media focused events and develop a portfolio of businesses across creative and communication industries. We understand presenting from front to back, back to front, from cutting edge to the edge of your seats.

Give us a call on 01245 466568 to discuss your requirements and how we could change the way your business gets business.

"Maximise your opportunities,
blow your clients away –
present like a pro and win, win, win"

(Business Development Executive)

"I like to lead from the front; I have to present
well, slick, clear and powerful – my team will
all need to do the same"

(Senior Sales Manager)

"I have been totally inspired – let me at them"

(Small Business Owner & NLP Expert)

"FotG Rock! They
make the impossible,
possible"

(Company Director)

"Wow"

(Senior Council Official)

"Speak with confidence, express yourself clearly, command the room – you can and you must learn this stuff – there really is no alternative these days"

(Rising Management Star)
